

Expression of Interest: Zennström Visiting Professorship in Climate Change Leadership

Thank you for your interest in the Zennström Visiting Professorship in Climate Change Leadership. Please provide an Expression of Interest and a complete CV no later than 29 March, 2020, by sending the documents to project coordinator Sanna Barrineau: susanna.barrineau@ccl.uu.se

Guidelines for Expression of Interest

In no more than three pages, please address the following questions:

- What is your motivation for applying for this visiting professorship?
- What is your vision of transformative climate change leadership?
- As the fourth Zennström professor what processes and activities would you initiate while in Uppsala?
- When would you be able to begin the professorship in Uppsala? What is your preferred availability during the 1-2 years that you would hold the professorship?

Curriculum Vitae

Please provide a full Curriculum Vitae with your Expression of Interest.

Selection of candidates

The Zennström Climate Change Leadership visiting professorship is a unique transdisciplinary position. The selection process will be based on the candidates' Expressions of Interest. An advisory group of standing reviewers will evaluate the candidates' ability to contribute to the success and further development of the initiative. Guiding principles and criteria for selection include:

- Vision for, and capacity to contribute to, the further development of a climate change leadership environment;
- outreach and collaborative capacity including networks and affiliations;
- teaching and research skills;
- presence in Uppsala; and
- experiences and skills of particular merit considering the focus and transdisciplinary nature of the professorship.

Candidates currently or formerly hired by Uppsala University, or candidates who have earned any one of their degrees at Uppsala University, cannot be considered for the Zennström Visiting Professorship.
